

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

It may interest the members of the editorial staff of a Hartford paper that there are only six prisoners at the Windham county jail to know that there were 34 there when their paper carried the story of a year ago.

Here is the story that was good for a two-column heavily loaded heading on the first page of a paper that circulated throughout the state.

Prohibition has changed the Windham county jail from a "respectable" self-sustaining institution into an $11,000 yearly liability. Against an average of forty-three inmates from September, 1918, to September, 1919, the number has gradually decreased until at the present time, the total registration at the county's free "winter hotel" is six. And unfortunately these six are incarcerated for work during their "deplorable" days of the institution the inmates were "hired out" to farmers and the resulting income for many years paid the expenses of maintaining the jail.

The facts of the case were brought to light at the Windham county meeting at the capitol yesterday afternoon, when the county commissioners reported a deficiency of $15,000. The upkeep of the jail cost $15,931.31 from September 30, 1919, to September 30, 1920, the deficiency for the jail alone being $10,422.50. The average number of inmates during that period was fifteen and nine-thirtieths.

A record of six degrees below zero—the coldest of the winter—was noted here at 6 a. m. Wednesday morning. Many who are employed out of doors found the weather too cold to do their work in comfort and were obliged to lay off.

At Quinebaug lake the ice is between 5 and 6 inches thick. Heretofore E. Keach said that as soon as the ice reaches 8 inches in thickness cutting will begin.

Continued cold weather until the end of the week will be required to get the ice sufficiently heavy to harvest. Only three or four layers of last winter's ice crop remains in one of the houses at the lake, and this is not near sufficient to meet the needs of Danielson for a year.

On smaller bodies of water hereabouts ice that in some cases had reached a thickness of nine inches was reported on Wednesday.

Attorney E. L. Darbie, who is chairman of the committee on engrossed bills, has also been named as clerk of the judiciary committee, of which he is the only member from Windham county.

Members of the fire department were called out at a still alarm Wednesday morning for a chimney fire at the home of Lee Shippee in a lane off Broad street in the Christian Hill section. The Captain Put Engine company responded and put out the blaze with the contents of one extinguisher. The house was not damaged.

Reports of the damage done by a great fire that was sweeping over a section of the heart of the city of Worcester during the forenoon hours Wednesday excited so much interest in towns hereabouts that automobile parties were organized to make the trip to see the conflagration.

Mrs. Helen Josephine Tucker, widow of James C. Tucker, who died at her home in Ballouville, was a native of the town of Killingly and had lived her life in this town. She was a daughter of John and Eliza Kelley, one of Killingly's old favorites. She was the last of her family and leaves only nieces and a nephew. Mrs. Tucker had been in failing health for a long time.

At the present time the organization has paid dividends at the rate of five percent per annum. On the new series of shares—the 11th is now being issued, 117 shares have been subscribed. There is a balance of $900 in the treasury at the present time.

Funeral services attended by relatives and friends was held at her home near Dayville Wednesday afternoon for Miss Ida Curtis. Rev. William Swanson of the Congregational church at Dayville officiating. Burial was in Dayville cemetery. The bearers were Elmer Wood, Edwin Wood, D. Fred Kenworthy, Paul Darrow, George Williams and Arthur Tripp. L. E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

This (Thursday) afternoon at the Congregational church, Professor Theodore Collier of Brown university will address the members of Sarah Williams Danielson chapter, D. A. R., on the subject "Pilgrim Principles for the Life of Today. At four o'clock the meeting will be open to the public, giving all an opportunity to hear the speaker.

Players in the pinocle tournament at the Bohemian club will play their weekly series of games this evening.

Wednesday, the last day of the ice fishing season on lakes and ponds, found a few hardy spirits out trying their luck, though the mercury was hovering around the zero mark.

Rev. John J. Quinn returned Wednesday to his parish at Poquonock, after a visit here with his sisters, Miss Katharine and Miss Nellie Quinn of Maple street.

Bernard C. Richmond of Quincy, Mass., was a visitor with friends in Danielson Wednesday.

Good judges say that there is an opportunity for a paying investment now for those who will buy raw cow hides, which are selling at ridiculously low prices and are sure to advance in value at an early date.

PUTNAM

"Bus service on the Gargen line, between this city and the Grovesend, is to be indefinitely suspended in about two weeks," Mr. Gargen stated Wednesday morning. The owner of the line said that he has found it unprofitable and that he figures his losses to date at about $5,000, although there has been considerable traffic over the line which runs through Mechanicville, serving the people of that village, and through West Thompson to the Grovesend. Another bus line that has been furnishing service between the village of the town of Thompson and Webster is expected to cover the route that Mr. Gargen will abandon that he may devote his entire time to his trucking interests, which are important and profitable. His bus line to North Grovesend has been established about a year and a half, coming into real activity following the trolley strike during the summer of 1919.

The pending withdrawal of the Gargen bus service furnishes another angle to the difficulties of the urban transportation line in operating profitably in this territory. Between Putnam and the Grovesend, it is now apparent, there has been no profit for either the buses or the trolley line, which time the routes have appeared to be carrying the bulk of the traffic for many months past.

Mr. Gargen says that in covering its schedule one of his buses plies up a total of 150 miles a day. Times wear out very rapidly under such daily mileage and heavy loads, there are various other up-keep costs, heavy assessments for registration and insurance, which must be carried by public service vehicle drivers' pay, which must be liberal and other expenses. He figures that the cost of keeping a bus on the line is at least $40 a day, which is regarded as very moderate, so that much money must be taken in before any profit is available. On many days this cannot be done.

The suspension of bus service by Mr. Gargen will not affect his contract for transporting school children in the town of Thompson.

Sitting in the city court Wednesday morning, Deputy Judge Archibald Macdonald imposed a fine of $25 and costs of $12.74 on Arthur Vanose, who was found guilty of reckless driving of an automobile which figured in an accident on Main street here, many weeks ago.

Just prior to the accident the car Vanose was driving was following another machine driven by Rev. A. Spencer Voorhes, of Pomfret Center. Vanose sounded his horn as a warning that he desired to pass the Voorhes car, but in attempting to do so the cars came into collision and a truck owned by the Lombardo store, which was standing beside the curb at the Bradley building, was also struck and two youthful Lombardos who were sitting in the truck were roughly tossed about.

It was stated Wednesday that neither Rev. Mr. Voorhes nor the owner of the truck cared to press a charge of reckless driving against Vanose, but the matter was finally brought into court.

Vanose who is out of work at the present time and who recently in court was ordered to pay $5 a week for the support of his child was evidently completely discouraged by court proceedings and pleaded that he be sent to jail, having no money with which to pay the fine and costs, and feeling that he would be better off working on the farm.

He was not pressed for immediate payment of the fine and costs and Captain J. H. Bulger offered his assistance toward the end of getting the required money advanced.

Bowman Brothers Blue Grass Minstrels of which George M. Fine of this city is part owner and manager, is to open at Plainfield, N. J., March 7, Mr. Fine announced Wednesday.

The bookings of the troupe, made by the Schuberts, will take the company through New Jersey in the opening days of its tour, then into a string of Pennsylvania cities and towns, next into Maryland, where a number of bookings have been made, then into Ohio, Virginia and North Carolina, the dates so far made to keep the company occupied until Memorial day.

Mr. Fine, who was formerly lessee and manager here of the Bradley theater and later operated a theater in New London, is delighted with the success he has met with in organizing his new venture, and the booking house has written that they have had wonderful success in booking the attraction.

The Bowman Brothers are among the best known of minstrels in the southern states and are known as the Blue Grass boys.

The car that the company is to use is being readied at Jersey city. It was formerly used by the interstate commission for whom it was built by the government.

There are to be forty people in the troupe and they will travel and live on the car, which is fitted with every modern convenience.

convenience.

"Booking now being made will keep the company on the road through a greater part of the late spring and early summer months, by which time the routings will bring the organization north."

A big chimney reader owned by J. Otis Fox of this city, had a running board and fender jammed Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock, near the junction of Front and South Main streets, when a car driven by C. M. Clark of Providence crashed into it as Mr. Fox's car was rounding the silent traffic officer at that point.

Mr. Clark had agreed to make the damage to the Fox car.

Automobile parties rushed out of this city during Wednesday forenoon for Worcester, where one of the worst fires in the city's history was reported raging.

Telephone and telegraph wires and passengers on trains coming south brought the first stories of the conflagration, which was described as being of such volume as to require the Worcester fire department to seek aid from departments in Providence, Boston, Webster and cities about Worcester. As Worcester is but 25 miles from Putnam a number of persons became so interested that they got out machines, organized parties and made the trip to see the sight.

At St. Mary's church, Miss Viola Rinehead and Wesley Waters were united in marriage by Rev. W. A. Routhier. Mr. Waters is a World War veteran and has been making his home since leaving the service with John Jarvis of this city, where he and his bride will make their home.

Hundreds who saw Katcha-Koo at the Bradley theater were enthusiastic Wednesday over the successful production of the play, which was equally joyful over the fact that it was splendid financial success and will make available several hundred dollars for the audible uses to which it will be put by the Parent-Teacher association.

Temperatures as low as 5 below zero were reported in this city Wednesday morning. Ice harvesting is now the occupation of the hour and the city seems assured of a bountiful supply of the weather man does not prove so perverse as to turn on another series of spring-like days.

This (Thursday) evening brings affairs of importance for the members of Putnam lodge of Elks and for the members of Israel Putnam lodge of Odd Fellows of this city.

American Legion members here are interested in plans being made for the reception to National Commander Galbraith when he visits Hartford the latter part of the month. It is probable that Anselm Mayotte post of this city will be represented on the reception committee.

Ponds hereabouts proved an attraction Wednesday afternoon for many who enjoyed skating.

During February there will be a one day's session of the superior court in this city, this to be followed by the usual March term, for which much business is being prepared.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs
Make a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easy to prepare, and moves about $1.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficulty breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with cough and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any drug-gist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup. Know your sugar syrup. If desire, this recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this takes hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed throat and soothes and heals the irritated membrane that lines the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the most powerful cough remedy ever known.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for 2½ ounces of Pinex with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ill for some days, is at work again. A boys' society of Knights of King Arthur has been started once more by some of the local boys.

A bad chimney fire at what is known as the Kendall farm developed last Thursday afternoon. A call came in for the Atwood hose company for aid. The chemical auto truck was sent to the farmer's assistance in a few minutes after the call came in. Upon arrival the driver was told that the fire had been put out but upon examination by members of the fire company it was found that the fire was still blazing at the base of the chimney. A small hand chemical tank was discharged and the investigation still revealed fire higher in the chimney. It was thought well to discharge one of the truck 40-gallon tanks into the chimney. The fire was extinguished in a short order. The chimney was then cleaned to make sure that the blaze had been thoroughly extinguished. This is the first bad chimney fire subdued by the chemical truck since it was purchased and it proved a great convenience in getting to the fire, putting out the blaze and getting back to the hose rooms so rapidly.

BOLTON
An apple and peach tree pruning demonstration was held by Ernest Tucker of the Tolland county farm bureau and a professor from Storrs college last week Wednesday.
